Get complete control over where your data is stored

eHiive is designed to save you and your teams' time in uploading, searching and sharing files. Preview images and videos without needing to download, comment on them and even live chat your colleague or client to discuss about it instantly! You can also create project spaces to better collaborate, and assign members upload, edit, and download rights respectively.

On top of that, you can tag your files in bulk and organize them in folders to cut down on search time. You also can share files privately, publicly, and track all movements of files on a powerful admin dashboard.
